

A Paid Ministry : Have Friends Any Testimony on the Subject? If So, What Is It? Views of a Number of Prominent Friends on the Question (Classic Reprint)

Samuel Jones Levick

Excerpt from A Paid Ministry: Have Friends Any Testimony on the Subject? If So, What Is It? Views of a Number of Prominent Friends on the Question When carefully analyzed the language of not to another, for whom they do not work, our friend Samuel J. Levie as reported in etc. There is nothing in this or anything else the journal, and which corresponds with he says, inconsistent with the ground taken on my own recollection, and the correctness of this subject by Friends then and ever since, as which he has not attempted to call in question before set forth. Seems so diametrically and shockingly opposed Possibly, in the rather discouraging state of to the views and practices of early Friends as our Society, our friend advanced his peculiar before set forth, to our own discipline and to views with the idea that the introduction of a the testimony all bearing the name of Friends, paid ministry might be a means of renewed have ever held or been supposed to hold on life, as other propositions have been made to this subject, that it is to me a matter of aston that end. If this be so, I imagine few are e ishment that it was at the Yearly Meeting, and pared to acknowledge the Society a failiire has been since allowed to pass with so little from the beginning, as to its fundamental idea(ii) About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
