

The Pace of Change : Studies in Early Medieval Chronology

Edited by John Hines, Edited by Etc.

Chronology is the factual basis for contextualising archaeology. This collection of papers aims to integrate local chronological schemes with more comprehensive and general master chronologies. The studies focus on Germanic or Germanised populations during and after the Roman Empire's fall in the West: the rich Germanic archaeological sites provide a yardstick for other areas. The authors also pay close attention to terminology with definitions of major periods, sub-periods and artefact-types and to the relationship between typology and computerised quantitative and statistical techniques. The papers, all in English, cover North-West Europe, Denmark and Britain.
